The Boston Advertiser, in a review of the business situation, expresses the opinion that the present crisis is commercial rather than economic; it concerns traders and producers rather than consumers.

Philadelphia is worried about its divisions. There are nine right applications on the docket of one court and forty-three on another, and the probability is that 1883 will see a wholesale cutting of the marriage tie that would dissolve the Quaker City.

An analysis of the national debt prepared July 2, 1888, showed it to amount to $1,884,171,720, of which the annual interest charge is $54,650,700. As the estimated population of the country on the same date was 50,000,000, the debt per capita is $37.69, and the interest charge per capita is $1.09.

The New York Herald says that business is extremely dull; the stock exchange is almost dead, because the outside public, on whom rests the business of the exchange, has been driven away by the numerous additions made to the securities listed by the exchange and the very general fear that with so much water there may presently come a general and large decline in stocks.

In this country we shall have a comparatively moderate surplus of wheat, a very good surplus of cotton, and probably the largest corn and clover crop in the history of the country. The wheat yield does not promise to reach the magnitude of the harvest record in 1882, and in wheat a somewhat marked distinction has been recorded. The result of this, as far as the country is concerned, is very simple: We shall have cheap supplies, and consequently cheap living.

It is a matter for congratulation that the cholera still seems to be decreasing in rate. In Alexandria the figures are still kept very low, showing a great contrast to what Cairo has suffered. It is pleasant also to know that, for the measure, undertaken to prevent the spread of the cholera, is very successful. Should cholera ever break out among the Mediterranean waters, no army of men or permanent abodes of filth and violence, as now, would be fearful.

The agreement entered into between the United States and Mexican governments, providing for a railroad crossing the unpopulated and almost unexplored international boundary line by the treaty of the respective countries, expires on the 15th instant. On the 25th of June the American Minister to Mexico and the Mexican Secretary of War made an agreement prolonging the former agreement and extending it to the 15th of August, 1888.

France is getting into trouble with the number of strikes occurring there. They are not confined to one or two trades, but spread like an epidemic from one trade to another. That a great struggle between capital and labor is inevitable is a fact.

It is all the principal countries the working people are protesting more and more against the right of the position of the community to monopolize large masses of property as not to leave enough in common possession and circulation to afford a fair support to the industries, honest and sober.

The large and dangerous iceberg encountered by the steamer Durban in the "northern passage" on the 31st ultimo, gives evidence that the Atlantic high season is not yet passed. Several large icebergs were seen, also 300 feet high and two miles long, were not far distant 40° 45' north, longitude 28° 30' west.

On July 28, 1888, the steamer Durban passed two large icebergs in latitude 47° 15' north, longitude 28° 30' west. The Durban passed two large icebergs in latitude 47° 15' north, longitude 28° 30' west.

The steamer Durban in England is continually being troubled with the crew who collect in the streets and follow passengers to the magistrates' court. It is a disgrace to the country.

FOLGER A FAILURE.
The Treasury Department as Absolutely Under the Control of the Old King as Ever.

The Present Secretary No Improvement on His Predecessors—An Imbecile, if Not Worse.

WASHINGTON, August 10.—The executive committee of the Senate and Fifth Internal Revenue District of Tennessee went into office today.

FOLGER A FAILURE.
THE TREASURY OFFICE IN THE HANDS OF THE OLD KING.

Washington special: A good Republican man, there is no way of getting rid of the old king in the Treasury Department. Folger is a failure, and the old king is still in the Treasury Department.

ARTHUR'S RIDE.
The President Proving Himself a Good Horseman, and Taking to Camp Life Like a Veteran.

His Reputation as a Fisherman Sustained—Senator Vest Interviewed the Indians.

CAMP BELLING, W. Va., August 10.—After the Indian dance yesterday at our camp, near Fort Washita, Capt. Hayes, commanding troops, Fifth Cavalry, gave the President an exhibition drill, the commands being given by trumpet. The drill included the ordinary maneuvers by troops, the formation of a skirmish line, both on horseback and on foot, and ended with a charge. Just after this about 250 mounted Indians, Shoshones and Arapahoes, gave a sham battle exhibition. The maneuvers executed by them were the same as actual warfare. Their horsemanship was surprising, nearly every one riding superbly.
